Brittany Ellis

Mission Viejo, CA, USA

My new art series is based upon the falter of Disney princesses. Disney princesses are glamorous, flawless, and even considered perfect. They're who girls and boys alike admire at a very young age. But what happens when we grow up and perfect suddenly becomes imperfect? My art explores the irony of being the vulnerable beauty through their Achilles heel. Beauty and fame comes with a price when you live your life based upon how others perceive you. My art acknowledges those vices to work towards change.
