About "In the Wild" Art Competition

In the Wild Art Competition called for artists worldwide, from February to April 2021, to share their artwork related to nature, from plants to animals, and everything wild in between.

"In the wild you find what mankind should treasure the most. You see life, you feel fresh, you hear roars. It's nature on its finest form, on its original form, on its own skin. It's raw and beautiful - every single element of its composition."
